

A network that keeps up with you

You're running your day-to-day, managing staff, and serving customers, all while using multiple devices, connection types, and accessories. The last thing you need is a glitchy network.

Square partnered with Ubiquiti to offer a suite of hardware and free cloud-based software, which can run all of your store's operations and prevent network-related issues. You're always on, so your network should be, too.

Who exactly is Ubiquiti?

Ubiquiti is a best-in-class tech company that develops networking equipment for small businesses to increase reliability and reduce the potential for failures or disruptions.

Why you need a strong network.

Your network and your internet service provider work hand-in-hand. Having a robust local network and reliable internet allows for uninterrupted communication of your devices. That way, you can keep the orders flowing and customers happy.

This is how it works.

✔ First, there's setup and installation.

To ensure your network is optimized based on your location, layout, and to work with Square, a site survey is conducted, followed by professional installation and configuration.

💰 How much does it cost?

Cost is based on the hardware and site survey, but there are pre-negotiated, discounted rates for Square sellers. Plus, there are no licensing or maintenance fees.

⚠ Let's talk software.

Once installed, Ubiquiti's free UniFi software allows you to easily monitor network performance. If problems occur, you can quickly identify which devices have hit a snag and troubleshoot.

😊 It's easy to get started.

Connect with your sales rep or account manager to choose the right hardware, or visit our help center to find the options from our accessories or kits shops.